Textbook Larson and Edwards, Multivariable calculus (9th edition)

Course goals

- Use vectors and their algebra to describe motion and other directed, multi-dimensional quantities.
- Understand the relationships among gradients, directional derivatives, and maxima and minima of multi-variable functions.
- Use changes of variable and vector-field calculus to transform and compute multi-dimensional integrals.

We will cover most of the text. Specific highlights include vector geometry; the multi-variable chain rule; multi-variable and constrained optimisation problems; multiple integrals; vector fields; and "div, grad, curl, and all that".

Attendance Attendance is required. You must sign the attendance sheet each class, or you may be marked absent. For each exam, if you have attended all classes since the previous exam, you will receive 1 bonus point. Official Absences are not counted against your attendance. One un-official absence will be excused per exam.

Grading Course components will be weighted as follows:

${f Homeworks}$	Quizzes	${f Midterms}$	Final
15%	10%	15% each $(45%$ total)	30%

You can see your current weighted percentage on the course web-page at any time. If you think that a grade has been mis-computed, you must talk to me within 1 week of its being recorded.

Your course grade will be determined as follows:

Min. $\%$	Min. Grade	Min. %	Min. Grade	Min. $\%$	Min. Grade
90%	A-	94%	A
80%	B-	84%	В	87%	B+
70%	C-	74%	$\mathbf{C}$	77%	C+
60%	D-	64%	D	67%	D+

If you have earned less than 60% of the course credit, then you may receive an F. Exam and course grades may be curved.

Academic Conduct You must comply with the University's academic-conduct policies at http://www.catalog.tcu.edu/current_year/undergraduate/1411.htm, from which the following partial quote is taken.

Any act that violates the spirit of the academic conduct policy is considered academic misconduct. Specific examples include, but are not limited to:

- A. Cheating. Includes, but is not limited to:
  - 1. Copying from another student's test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files and listings.
  - 2. Using in any academic exercise or academic setting, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the test.
  - 3. Collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during an academic exercise without the permission of the person in charge of the exercise.
  - 4. Knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release.
  - 5. Substituting for another student, or permitting another student to substitute for oneself, in a manner that leads to misrepresentation of either or both students work.
- B. Plagiarism. The appropriation, theft, purchase or obtaining by any means another's work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one's own offered for credit. Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another's work without giving credit therefore.
- C. Collusion. The unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit.
- D. Abuse of resource materials. Mutilating, destroying, concealing or stealing such materials.
- E. Computer misuse. Unauthorized or illegal use of computer software or hardware through the TCU Computer Center or through any programs; terminals; or freestanding computers owned, leased or operated by TCU or any of its academic units for the purpose of affecting the academic standing of a student.
- F. Fabrication and falsification. Unauthorized alteration or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise. Falsification involves altering information for use in any academic exercise. Fabrication involves inventing or counterfeiting information for use in any academic exercise.
- G. Multiple submission. The submission by the same individual of substantial portions of the same academic work (including oral reports) for credit more than once in the same or another class without authorization.
- H. Complicity in academic misconduct. Helping another to commit an act of academic misconduct.
- I. Bearing false witness. Knowingly and falsely accusing another student of academic misconduct.
- Calculators and technology A graphing, but not a symbolic, calculator is required for the class (although it may be forbidden for selected problems). For Texas Instruments calculators, the acceptable model numbers are TI-83, TI-84, and TI-85. TI-89 calculators are not allowed. Other, discontinued, calculators, and other models, may be accepted, but you must check with me first.
- Homeworks Homeworks will be posted on the course web-page after most Tuesday and Friday classes, and are due by the beginning of the next class after they are assigned.

Homeworks must be handed in to me in person. If you are not able to do so, then you may have a friend hand it in, or, in exceptional circumstances, e-mail me a scanned copy by the due time. If an Official Absence will interfere with a due date, please let me know in advance so that we can make an appropriate adjustment. Late homeworks will not be accepted.

You may work with classmates on the homeworks, but you must write up your own work independently. The lowest homework grade will be dropped.

You should budget about 10 hours per week for reviewing notes and doing homework. You cannot earn better than a C, regardless of exam scores, without satisfactory homework and quiz grades.

Quizzes and exams Quizzes will be held in class every Friday (except for midterm weeks, and the week of Good Friday, when the quiz will be March 28). The lowest quiz grade will be dropped.

Midterms will be held in class on Thursdays: February 14; March 21; and April 18.

Re-scheduling of exams will be provided only in case of an Official Absence; or at my discretion, for extreme, documented reasons. In either case, you must tell me one week in advance, or as soon as is reasonably possible.

The final exam will be Tuesday, May 7, 8–10:30 AM, in a location to be announced. The time is set by the registrar, and not subject to change. Travel plans are not a sufficient reason to miss a final.
